Financial decisions must be seen to be made in accordance with the Seven Principles of Public Life:

Selflessness:	No financial gain or other material benefits for self/family
Integrity:	Independent of outside influence
Objectivity:	Decisions made on merit
Accountability:	Accountable for decisions/actions to the public
Openness:	Open about decisions and actions taken wherever possible
Honesty:	Declare private interests, resolve conflicts to protect public interest
Leadership:	Promote and support principles by leadership and example.

These principles apply to decisions with regard to procurement and staffing (including recruitment, contractual changes, casual/additional hours, reimbursements and expenses). Declarations should be made where individuals could have a significant influence on any decisions made both at school and with the related party.
